

General Product Description

The Shure Model U1M4 is a UHF, μ P (microprocessor) controlled, transmitter operating over the frequency range of 662-692 MHz. The transmitter features a minimum of 12 hours battery life using 2 'AA' alkaline batteries, an LCD readout of group/channel with a battery status indicator, a metal enclosure, and utilizes an external antenna to provide optimum range. This product is intended for use in high-end installed sound, rental, and concert sound markets.