FCC Digital Emissions Compliance

The AR4 has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class B digital device, pursuant to Part 15 of the FCC Rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses, and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. If this equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one or more of the following measures:

- Reorient or relocate the radio or television receiving antenna.
- Increase the separation between the computer equipment and receiver.
- Connect the equipment into an outlet on a circuit different from that to which the radio or television receiver is connected.
- Consult the dealer or an experienced radio television technician for help.

Specific Absorption Rate (SAR)

Radio Wave Exposure and Specific Absorption Rate (SAR) Information for Model AR4 Configurations with RFID Contactless Smart Card

This product is categorically exempt from routine SAR evaluation. The FCC excludes Part 15.225 devices from routine SAR evaluation. There are no RF exposure test requirements specified for Part 15.225 devices in 47 CFR Chapter 1, Section 2.1093.

This device complies with Part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions: (1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) This device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation.
