

Hi Joe,

We are applying under 90.217, Exemption from technical standard.

§90.217 Exemption from technical standards. -- Except as noted herein, transmitters used at stations licensed below 800 MHz on any frequency listed in Subparts B and C of this part or licensed on a business category channel above 800 MHz which have an output power not exceeding 120 milliwatts are exempt from the technical requirements set out in this subpart, but must instead comply with the following:

The frequency band under subpart B(90.20(c)) we fall under is 150-170MHz. Also this device satisfies the low power requirement of less than 120mW.

We can change the application form and test report to reflect the 150-170MHz band if required.
