

The third label will be installed based on which backhaul network is used. In LAN only configuration, there will not be a third label.