Dear Mr. Johnson,
Please find below the answer to your questions.

1) Visonic Ltd. confirms that the transmitter will be marketed only for use in safety of life circumstances. The following statement was included in revised User Guide: "The transmitter is used ONLY during emergencies involving security and safety of life, such that when an alarm is activated, transmissions continue during the pendency of this alarm condition".

The revised User Manual, file "User_Manual_15910_rev3" was uploaded on April 5, 2005.

Many thanks for your assistance and patience.
