RE: Acer, Inc.

FCC ID: HLZBL503G

I have a few comments on this Application. Depending on your responses, kindly understand there may be additional comments.

- 1.) The Label exhibit is missing for this device. Please supply a label as appropriate.
- 2.) There are no Schematics supplied for this project. Please supply Schematics especially for the Licensed transmitter section.
- 3.) The Parts List supplied does not include any description or listing of any transmitters other than unlicensed Bluetooth or 802.11a/b/g. Please supply an appropriate Parts List for this device.
- 4.) An RF Exposure estimation (MPE) is required for this device. Please provide. In addition, due consideration must be given if either the WLAN or Bluetooth transmitter is capable of usage simultaneously with the Licensed transmitter for this RF category "Mobile" configuration.
- 5.) It is recommended that an Agent Authorization letter from Acer to Sporton also be provided. Please provide at your first opportunity.
- 6.) FYI: The labeling issue may be critical for this filing. There are three potential transmitters which may or may not have their own full or limited Modular Approvals inside a notebook computer which may or may not need it's own ID. Kindly take particular care of labeling for this computer.
