Subject: FW: FCC question regarding G4

Hi Norman,

I think, she is right, the antenna installation guide is not what Tim is asking for. The info on the revised installation letter (actually it is the same as on pages 54-55 of the manual) may satisfy him. Let's try. Submit the letter, and we will see. Do not forget to submit a correspondence.

David

David:

As discussed over the phone, I believe the attestation letter is what the reviewer is looking for a change. He referred to a previous application. At the time, I had to modify the letter to add the specific wording. I forgot to copy it to the letter this time. Even though I said the same thing in other words, I guess FCC is looking for the same wording.

We do not have separate manuals for the G4 installation only. The manual I submitted includes everything, including antenna installation. It's on page 54 and 55, which I extracted and copied in here. Please review. Still I believe the change being looked for is with the letter.

Thanks
