Using TTY and TDD networks

TTY (Text Telephony) and TDD (Telecommunications Device for the Deaf) allow individuals who are deaf, hard of hearing, or have speech or language disabilities to communicate by telephone.

When a user types his or her conversation on a TTY keyboard, it is transmitted as tones through the telephone. Tones are received by the other person's TTY, translated into text and displayed on the screen.

In order to use the TTY network, you must have a TTY-compatible phone and be in the TTY mode to place or receive calls. Note that most digital wireless devices are TTY-compatible.

Data charges and location-based services

Verizon Wireless charges you for all data and content sent or received using our network (including any network overhead and/or Internet Protocol overhead associated with content sent or received), as well as resolution of Internet Protocol addresses from domain names. Sending or receiving data using a virtual private network (VPN) involves additional VPN overhead for which you will be charged. Please note that certain applications or widgets periodically send and receive data in the background, without any action by the user, and you will be billed for such data use.

Many services and applications offered through your device may be provided by third parties. Before you use, link to or download a service provided by a third party, or an application such as a non-Verizon Wireless location-based GPS-type service, chat room, marketplace or social network from your device, you should review the terms of such service or application and applicable privacy policy. Personal information you submit may be read, collected or used by the service or application provider and/or other users of those forums.

Verizon Wireless is not responsible for any information, content or services you access, download or use from the internet. You are responsible for maintaining virus and other internet security protections when accessing service.

For additional information, visit the Verizon Content Policy at responsibility.verizon.com/contentpolicy.

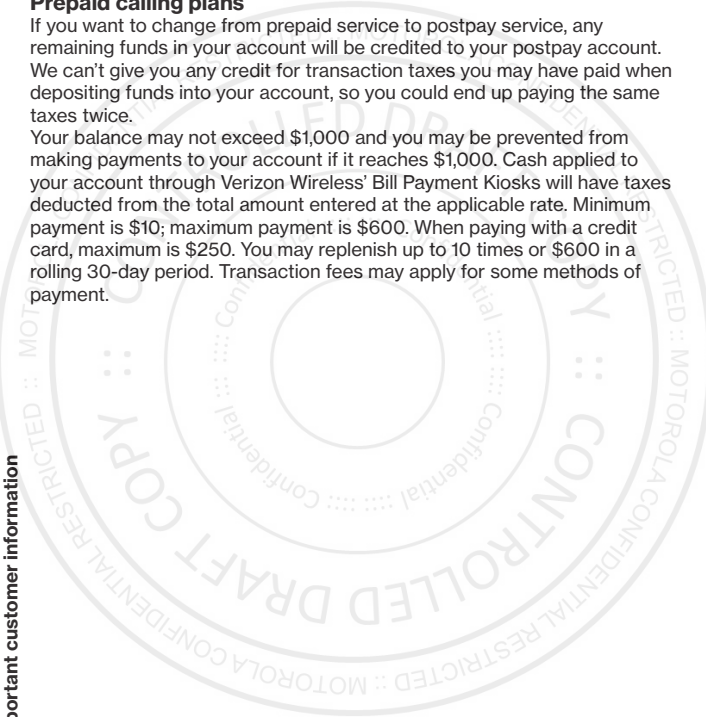

Your Verizon Wireless customer agreement terms and conditions and certain other specifically identified terms govern your use of any Verizon Wireless products and services.

If you want to change from prepaid service to postpay service, any remaining funds in your account will be credited to your postpay account. Your balance may not exceed $1,000 and you may be prevented from making payments to your account if it reaches $1,000. Cash applied to your account through Verizon Wireless' Bill Payment Kiosks will have taxes deducted from the total amount entered at the applicable rate. Minimum payment is $10; maximum payment is $600. When paying with a credit card, maximum is $250. You may replenish up to 10 times or $600 in a rolling 30-day period. Transaction fees may apply for some methods of payment.
