Re: FCC ID J9CTUTT-800, 731 CN EA96088

This email is to inquire the status of Qualcomm's application of the above FCC ID product for equipment certification. It has been over 90 days since we filed the application in last November, and the pending application status at FCC homepage shows that both technical review and administrative review have been completed by 2/25/00 and 12/3/99 respectively.

As I wrote to FCC on 2/2/00, we are now entering the production phase for this product, and FCC's early grant would be critical to our planned marketing. We appreciate your time on this application and look forward to your early approval.

Sincerely,

Fang Han
