Know your product

Set up your product

1. Turn on the trackpad. The status light blinks blue, and the trackpad is discoverable. If the status light blinks red, charge the battery. For information about charging, see “Charge the battery.”

2. Complete Bluetooth pairing on your Mac:
 - a. Go to System Preferences > Bluetooth.
 - b. Click the “Setup new device” (+) button, and follow the on-screen instructions.
 - c. Choose “Logitech T651” from the device list.
 - d. Click “Continue.”

3. Download and install the Logitech software for your Mac to get all the trackpad gestures and features. Go to www.logitech.com/support/t651

Charge the battery

A three-hour charge provides up to a month of battery power if you use the trackpad about two hours a day. You can use the trackpad while it charges.

To check battery power, turn on the trackpad:

- A green status light indicates an adequate charge.
- A blinking red status light indicates a recharge is needed.

To charge the trackpad:

- Connect the trackpad to your Mac using the Micro-USB charging cable. The Battery Status light will pulse green.
- Charge for 1 to 3 hours, or until the status light turns off.
