

F8Z896 Description

These two pocket-sized devices work together to help you use your smartphone to photograph and video record spontaneous group experiences. The portable stand quickly sets up on a variety of surfaces. It positions the smartphone for shooting pictures and videos. The remote connects to the smartphone wirelessly and controls the Belkin Camera App that runs on the smartphone. When the app is in camera mode, the remote controls the app's camera shutter button. When the app is in video mode, the remote controls the video record button.
