

Tune Up Procedures

The assigned frequencies, transmitter power setting, and other configuration parameters for the radio are loaded into the microprocessor memory by the factory prior to the meter integration step. There are no factory or user adjustable components in the radio, so no tuning is required. All operation is controlled by the microprocessor firmware.