

A grey, rounded electronic device, possibly a baby monitor or a small camera, is shown from the back. It has a white rectangular label in the center with the text "FCC ID Label Location". The device has several circular and oval-shaped features, including a large oval cutout at the top, two smaller circular cutouts below it, and two larger circular cutouts on the sides. There are also four small circular indentations around the central label area.

FCC
ID
Label
Location