

BDQ25 Theory description

- IC detect environment temperature and humidity, and according to user's setting control compressor and fan running to reach user's ask humidity.
- And in the unit display the environment humidity on the LED type display and also send unit status to handset for user's can be get unit status at any time.