

The following RF Exposure compliance statement will be include in the test report.

RF EXPOSURE

WARNING: For compliance with the RF exposure requirements regulated by the FCC (Federal Communications Commission), the transmitter's antenna is contained within the equipment enclosure and an additional separation distance of more 1.5 cm shall be maintained between the transmitter enclosure, and any part of the user's body.

