Subject : Netatmo Urban Weather Station radio selection

We hereby attest that (a) the Wifi channelization and (b) the 868 versus 915 Mhz band selection mechanism of our Urban Weather Station is outside of the end users control and never accessible. Although the same product is distributed in various geographies, the mode of operation of this device is compliant with FCC regulation if shipped to the US. We declare the above statement is true and accurate to the best of our knowledge

Sincerely,

Frédéric Potter
