AC595U Fulfill... SAR REPORT w...

Hi Chris,

The product specification was my mistake. I didn't notice it on the Confidentiality Letter. Sorry. Here it is now.

Also, here is a new version of the SAR Report with the photos removed. Sorry again. :(

I hope this answers everything.

Thanks for your patience.
September

September, the Confidentiality letter lists a 'Product Specification' exhibit but there is no such exhibit. I hate to be picky but they must only include the specific exhibits provided. They can either provide a Product Specification Exhibit, or revise the letter to remove it from the list.

Also, the original SAR report with Section 8 removed does not contain the tabulation of test data. Please resubmit the SAR report with the Section 8 data included but photos removed so that the non-confidential report includes the data. If this is not clear, please call me.

Thanks,

Chris

Thanks so much, Chris. I didn't want to sound pushy, please let me know if that happens. I hate being pushy. (I'd never make it in sales!)

Kindest regards,

September

I have started working on this again this morning. If there are any other troubles, I should be able to ask today. Otherwise I should complete the review and pass it to Mike Kuo. I'll copy you on any communication.

Thanks,

Chris

Hi Chris,

Thanks for your patience. If at all possible, could I please get an update on when you might have time for this one. I am not trying to push, I am just trying to get an idea to give to Sales.

Thanks again. Hope you had a nice weekend. Most of the time it was raining here, but I guess that's far better than snow! :)

Kindest regards,
September

September, I have just returned home from the TCBC workshop and will start catching up this weekend. It is 8 PM and have just gotten back from the airport. Sorry I have not gotten to this yet.

Best regards,

Hi Chris,

The customer was hoping to get the grants today, is there an update on this application? The client did not start the application with a deadline stated to us, but that changed once the submissionw as done.

Thanks so much for your patience.

Kindest regards,
