Dear Steve

About the Channel description in manual, our meaning is as below:

When you get the sample which domain is FCC that you could choose the channel in 1~11.

When you get the sample which domain is ETSI that you could choose the channel in 1~13.

When you get the sample which domain is MKK that you could choose the channel in 1~14.

We don't provide the function for customers to choose different domain by themselves.

Thanks for your assistance!

Best Regards

Question #1: P11 of user manual mentioned that the different channels are available for different regulatory domain; is domain selection available to end user or is fixed when ship out of the manufacture?
