

label location

The diagram shows a light gray rounded rectangle representing the back of a device. At the top, there is an orange rectangular area with a gradient, labeled "label location". Below this is a white rounded rectangular button with a black outline. At the bottom of the device area, the text "Back of the device" is centered.

Back of the device