11. To reduce the risk of electric shock, do not take this telephone apart. When service or repair work is required on this telephone, take it to a qualified service representative.     E. If the telephone has been dropped or the case has been damaged.

3

F.   If the telephone exhibits a distinct change in performance.

13. Avoid using a telephone (other than a cordless type) during an electrical storm. There may be a remote risk of electric shock from lightning.

Security

Security System

Your cordless telephone uses a digital coding security system to prevent unauthorized use of your telephone line by another nearby cordless telephone. The system has its own identifying signal created by microcomputers in both the BASE UNIT and HANDSET.

Security Code

This telephone has an internal security code with 65,536 possible combinations.

Resetting Security Code and Channel Information

Communication between HANDSET and BASE UNIT may not be possible in any of the following situations:
1. After a power failure.
2. After relocating the BASE UNIT by disconnecting the AC ADAPTOR.
3. After replacing the HANDSET battery.

To reset, place the HANDSET on the BASE UNIT for 2 to 5 seconds.

Multi-Channel Access

Your cordless telephone lets you select a channel from the 40 frequencies available to transmit signals between the BASE UNIT and HANDSET. When you notice interference from other cordless telephones, change to another channel by pressing the (SCAN) button on the HANDSET.

Battery Type

Use the following type and size of battery pack:

Cordless Telephone Battery Pack
3.6V, 600mAh
U.S. Electronics Inc.
Ni-Cd Battery Pack: model B650

Ni-Cd

This battery pack is available through:
U.S. Electronics Service Center
105 Madison Avenue
New York, NY 10016
1-800-828-5208

Recharging the Battery Pack

The nickel cadmium (Ni-Cd) battery pack in the HANDSET can be recharged many times using the built-in charger in the BASE UNIT.

When the BATTERY LOW LED indicator starts to blink, a "beep" sound will be heard every 10 seconds. This indicates that the battery pack needs to be recharged.

Charge the battery pack at least once every 90 days of nonuse to avoid battery failure. When the battery pack can no longer be charged, replacement of the battery pack will be necessary.

The battery pack used in your telephone may develop a condition known as "MEMORY". Once subjected to a regular short discharging routine, the battery assumes the discharging pattern it was subjected to. This is known as a "MEMORY" condition which causes rapid discharging thereby shortening the battery pack charge span. If you believe your battery pack has developed a memory condition, do not charge the HANDSET until the BATTERY LOW LED indicator comes on. When it does come on, charge the HANDSET fully for 12 hours.

IMPORTANT

In order to get maximum life from the HANDSET battery pack, be sure to charge the HANDSET for 12 hours before initial use.

31

Changing the Battery Pack

The battery pack provides power for the HANDSET of your cordless telephone.

To Replace the Battery Pack:

1. Remove the HANDSET battery compartment cover by sliding it down.

2. Pull out the battery connector and remove the battery pack.

3. Plug the new battery pack into the battery connector.

4. Slide the HANDSET battery compartment cover firmly into place in its closed position.

5. Before use, charge the new battery pack for 12 hours.

ATTENTION:

The product that you have purchased contains a rechargeable battery pack. The battery pack is recyclable. At the end of its useful life, under various state and local laws, it may be illegal to dispose of this battery pack into the municipal waste stream. Check with your local solid waste officials for details in your area for recycling options or proper disposal.

34

Technical Information

This cordless telephone uses radio frequencies to allow mobility. There are certain difficulties in using radio frequencies with a cordless telephone. While these are normal, the following could affect the operation of your system.

Noise

Electrical pulse noise is present in most homes at one time or another. This noise is most intense during electrical storms. Certain kinds of electrical equipment such as light dimmers, fluorescent bulbs, motors, and fans also generate noise pulses. Because radio frequencies are susceptible to these noise pulses, you may occasionally hear them in your HANDSET. Generally they are minor annoyance and should not be interpreted as a defect in your system.

Range

Because radio frequency is used, the location of the BASE UNIT can affect the operating range. Try several locations in your home or office and pick the one that gives you the clearest signal to the HANDSET.

Interference

Electronic circuits activate a relay to connect the cordless telephone to your telephone line. These electronic circuits operate in the radio frequency spectrum. While several protection circuits are used to prevent unwanted signals, there may be periods when these unwanted signals enter the BASE UNIT. You may hear clicks or hear the relay activate while you are not using the HANDSET. If the interference occurs frequently, it can be minimized or eliminated by lowering the height of your base antenna or by relocating the BASE UNIT. You can check for interference before selecting the final BASE UNIT location by plugging in the phone.

NOTICE:

This cordless telephone uses radio communication between the HANDSET and the BASE UNIT and may not ensure privacy of communication. Other devices, including other cordless telephone, may interfere with the operation of this cordless telephone or cause noise during operation. Units not containing coded access may be accessed by other radio communication systems. Cordless telephones must not cause interference to any licensed radio service.

35

FCC Requirements

Federal Communications Commission Requirements

This equipment complies with Part 68 of FCC Rules. A label on the BASE UNIT of this equipment contains, among other information, the FCC Registration Number and the Ringer Equivalence Number (REN) for this equipment. You must, upon request, provide this information to your telephone company.

The REN is also useful in determining the quantity of devices that you may connect to your telephone line and still allow these devices to ring when your telephone number is called. In most areas, but not all, the sum of the REN's for all devices connected to one line should not exceed five (5.0). To be certain of the number of devices that you may connect to your line, you should contact your local telephone company.

If your equipment should cause harm to the telephone network, the telephone company may temporarily disconnect your service. If possible, they will notify you in advance that temporary discontinuance of service may be required. However, when advance written notice is not possible, the telephone company may temporarily discontinue service without notice if such action is necessary under the circumstances. The telephone company may make changes in its communication facilities, equipment, operations, or procedures where such action is reasonably required in the operation of its business and is not inconsistent with the rules and regulations of the Federal Communications Commission. Do not attempt to repair or modify this equipment.

Warning: Changes or modifications not expressly approved by the party responsible for its compliance could void the user's authority to operate the equipment.

Some cordless telephones operate at frequencies that may cause interference to nearby TV's and VCR's. To minimize or prevent such interference, the base of the cordless telephone should not be placed on or near a TV or VCR. If interference is experienced, moving the cordless telephone farther away from the TV or VCR will often reduce or eliminate the interference.

This equipment should not be used on coin telephone lines. Connection to party line service is subject to state tariffs. If trouble is experienced, disconnect this equipment from the telephone line to determine if it is causing the malfunction. If the equipment is determined to be malfunctioning, its use should be disconnected until the problem has been corrected.

IMPORTANT

In order to get maximum life from the HANDSET battery pack, be sure to charge the HANDSET for 12 hours before initial use.

Note: This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a class B digital device, pursuant to Part 15 of the FCC Rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications.

However, there is no guarantee that interference will occur in a particular installation. If this equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one of the following measures.

1. Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna.
2. Increase the distance between the equipment and the receiver.
3. Connect the equipment into an outlet on a circuit different from that to which the receiver is connected.
4. Consult the dealer or an experienced radio/TV technician for help.
