Subject: In-Tech Electronics Limited, FCC ID: NV6-CS8035, Assessment NO.: AN04T4413, Notice#1

Question #1: The device is a portable device, MPE calculation is not applicable, however 0.76cm was listed on the report as MPE safe distance. Please remove MPE information from the test report.

Ans. Removed as attached revised report.

(See attached file: CS8035 Test Report revised 1221.pdf)

Question #2: As indicated in the test report, the device has made mechanical changes to have four more model names as model series. Please revise the Class II change letter to include these changes into the letter.

Ans. Revised as attached Class II change permissive letter.

(See attached file: CS8035 Class II permissive change letter revised 1221.pdf)

Question #3: The test report indicated a notebook PC and a Bluetooth USB dongle were used as supporting equipments. The test setup photos show they were used in power-line conducted emission test. Please explain why the supporting equipments were needed here. Please note in the original filing, no supporting equipments were used.

Ans. They are used to link with the EUT in the normal operating mode for testing. In the past, the notebook PC and BT USB dongle were set in the far field that why you can't find them in the original test report.

Best Regards,

Helen Zhao
