

Declaration of Conformity (DoC)

October 5, 1999

No Wires Needed declares that its Swallow product identified under the FCC Certification number OGD10330209 has been tested as a Class B device, to comply with FCC standards for Home and Office use.

Due to the small size of the device the following statement will be inserted into the user manual:

"This device complies with Part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions: (1) this device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation."

A handwritten signature in black ink, reading "Peter Murray" with a stylized flourish at the end.
