

Product Operation Description

This product K1902 is wireless keyboard, which has 104/105 standard keys, 5 multimedia keys, 4 internet keys and 4 application keys. It uses two AAA batteries.

The main function of K1902 is modulating pressing keys message, transmit RF signal to associated receiver. The operation frequency range is 26.96 to 27.28MHz, K1902 has two channels, and the frequency channel can be selected via change a switch on the bottom, then press CONNECT key on the bottom of the keyboard, also you need to press CONNECT key on the receiver at the same time, the connection will be set up within one minute.

The keyboard K1902 has a battery-low indicator. When you press any key and the power indicator become red, it means the batteries are out of power.