FCC/IC Notice

This device complies with part 15 of the FCC rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions:

(1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation. To maintain compliance with FCC RF exposure guidelines, if you wear a handset on your body, use the Kyocera Wireless Corp. (KWC) supplied and approved case CV90-G2573-01 and holster CV90-G2958-01. Other accessories used with this device for body-worn operations must not contain any metallic components and must provide at least 25 mm separation distance including the antenna and the user's body.

THIS MODEL PHONE MEETS THE GOVERNMENT'S REQUIREMENTS FOR EXPOSURE TO RADIO WAVES.

Your wireless phone is a radio transmitter and receiver. It is designed and manufactured not to exceed the emission limits for exposure to radio frequency (RF) energy set by the Federal Communications Commission of the U.S. Government. These limits are part of comprehensive guidelines and establish permitted levels of RF energy for the general population. The guidelines are based on standards that were developed by independent scientific organizations through periodic and thorough evaluation of scientific studies. The standards include a substantial safety margin designed to assure the safety of all persons, regardless of age and health.

The exposure standard for wireless mobile phones employs a unit of measurement known as the Specific Absorption Rate, or SAR. The SAR limit set by the FCC is 1.6 W/kg.* Tests for SAR are conducted using standard operating positions specified by the FCC with the phone transmitting at its highest certified power level in all tested frequency bands.

Although the SAR is determined at the highest certified power level, the actual SAR level of the phone while operating can be well below the maximum value.

This is because the phone is designed to operate at multiple power levels so as to use only the power required to reach the network. In general, the closer you are to a wireless base station antenna, the lower the power output.

Before a phone model is available for sale to the public, it must be tested and certified to the FCC that it does not exceed the limit established by the government-adopted requirement for safe exposure. The tests are performed in positions and locations (e.g., at the ear and worn on the body) as required by the FCC for each model.

Body-worn measurements differ among phone models, depending upon availability of accessories and FCC requirements. While there may be differences between the SAR levels of various phones and at various positions, they all meet the government requirement for safe exposure.

The FCC has granted an Equipment Authorization for this model phone with all reported SAR levels evaluated as in compliance with the FCC RF emission guidelines. SAR information on this model phone is on file with the FCC and can be found under the Display Grant section <http://www.fcc.gov/oet/fccid> after searching on the FCC ID: OVFKWC-KX18.

Additional information on SAR can be found on the Cellular Telecommunications and Internet Association (CTIA) web-site at <http://www.wow-com.com>.

* In the United States and Canada, the SAR limit for mobile phones used by the public is 1.6 watts/kg (W/kg) averaged over one gram of tissue. The standard incorporates a substantial margin of safety to give additional protection for the public and to account for any variations in measurements.

Caution

The user is cautioned that changes or modifications not expressly approved by the party responsible for compliance could void the warranty and user's authority to operate the equipment.

Optimize your phone's performance

Use the guidelines on page 2 to learn how to optimize the performance and life of your phone and battery.

Air bags

If your vehicle has an air bag, DO NOT place installed or portable phone equipment or other objects over the air bag or in the air bag deployment area. If equipment is not properly installed, you and your passengers risk serious injury.

Medical devices

Pacemakers—Warning to pacemaker wearers: Wireless phones, when in the 'on' position, have been shown to interfere with pacemakers. The phone should be kept at least six (6) inches away from the pacemaker to reduce risk.

The Health Industry Manufacturers Association and the wireless technology research community recommend that you follow these guidelines to minimize the potential for interference.

- Always keep the phone at least six inches (15 centimeters) away from your pacemaker when the phone is turned on.
- Do not carry your phone near your heart.

- Use the ear opposite the pacemaker.
- If you have any reason to suspect that interference is taking place, turn off your phone immediately.

Hearing aids—Some digital wireless phones may interfere with hearing aids. In the event of such interference, you may want to consult your service provider or call the customer service line to discuss alternatives.

Other medical devices—If you use any other personal medical device, consult the manufacturer of the device to determine if it is adequately shielded from external RF energy. Your physician may be able to help you obtain this information.

In health care facilities—Turn your phone off in health care facilities when instructed. Hospitals and health care facilities may be using equipment that is sensitive to external RF energy.

Potentially unsafe areas

Posted facilities—Turn your phone off in any facility when posted notices require you to do so.

Aircraft—FCC regulations prohibit using your phone on a plane that is in the air. Turn your phone off or switch it to Airplane Mode before boarding aircraft.

Vehicles—RF signals may affect improperly installed or inadequately shielded electronic systems in motor vehicles. Check with the manufacturer of the device to determine if it is adequately shielded from external RF energy.

Blasting areas—Turn off your phone where blasting is in progress. Observe restrictions, and follow any regulations or rules.

Potentially explosive atmospheres—Turn off your phone when you are in any area with a potentially explosive atmosphere. Obey all signs and instructions. Sparks in such areas could cause an explosion or fire, resulting in bodily injury or death.

Areas with a potentially explosive atmosphere are often, but not always, clearly marked. They include:

- fueling areas such as gas stations
- below deck on boats
- transfer or storage facilities for fuel or chemicals
- vehicles using liquefied petroleum gas, such as propane or butane
- areas where the air contains chemicals or particles such as grain, dust, or metal powders
- any other area where you would normally be advised to turn off your vehicle engine

Use with care

Use only in normal position (to ear). Avoid dropping, hitting, bending, or sitting on the phone.

Keep phone dry

If the phone gets wet, turn the power off immediately and contact your dealer. Water damage may not be covered under warranty.

Resetting the phone

If the screen seems frozen and the keypad does not respond to keypresses, reset the phone by completing the following steps:

1. Remove the battery door.
2. Remove and replace the battery.

If the problem persists, return the phone to the dealer for service.

Accessories

Use only Kyocera-approved accessories with Kyocera phones. Use of any unauthorized accessories may be dangerous and will invalidate the phone warranty if said accessories cause damage or a defect to the phone.

Radio Frequency (RF) energy

Your telephone is a radio transmitter and receiver. When it is on, it receives and sends out RF energy. Your service provider's network controls the power of the RF signal. This power level can range from 0.006 to 0.6 watts.

In August 1996, the U.S. Federal Communications Commission (FCC) adopted RF exposure guidelines with safety levels for hand-held wireless phones. These guidelines are consistent with the safety standards previously set by both U.S. and international standards bodies in the following reports:

- ANSI C95.1 (American National Standards Institute, 1992)
- NCRP Report 86 (National Council on Radiation Protection and Measurements, 1986)
- ICNIRP (International Commission on Non-Ionizing Radiation Protection, 1996)

Your phone complies with the standards set by these reports and the FCC guidelines.

E911 mandates

Where service is available, this handset complies with the Phase I and Phase II E911 Mandates issued by the FCC.

EvDO

EvDO is a standard for wireless broadband provided by select cellphone carriers in the United States. EvDO is an acronym for Evolution Data Only, and enables download speeds over cell phones networks of up to 2.4Mb per second.

EvDO is considered the first 3G, or third generation wireless standard to be adopted within the US. What this means for phones that have EvDO capability is that not only will they be used to make and receive phone calls and text messages, but also will be used to quickly access multimedia content, such as streaming or downloaded audio or video.

Find stuff

There are two ways to find stuff in Amp'd Live, you can browse through items by category, or you can search for a specific item.

As you look at items, you'll also want to know what the rating codes mean (see page 35).

Browse through items

As you explore the Amp'd Live world, you'll see that it's pretty easy to get around.

1. Press Select (that's the Center of the Navigation key ) to open Amp'd Live.
2. Select an item from a menu, and then choose an item from a list of choices.
3. If there's more than one level of choices, select an item from the next list.

Search for something specific

If you know exactly what you're looking for, you can use the Search command to track it down — instead of browsing through the menu choices.

1. Go to Amp'd Live.
2. Select Menu → Search.
3. Select the type of item you want to find (wallpaper, ringtone, screensaver, etc.).
4. If you see a select category box, choose the category where you expect to find the item you're looking for.
5. Enter a description of the item.
6. Select Search.

If you don't find it the first time, try again and enter a different description of the item or look in a different category.

Note: To find items that are similar to other items, go to MyStuff, select the item with which you want to compare things, select Menu → Get More.

Decode the ratings

Whether you're looking for some sizzling adult action or something you can show your mother, you don't have to guess when it comes to ratings. All the Amp'd Live items have a rating decal.

Here's what the ratings mean:

- AA = All Audiences — even your grandma won't find this stuff offensive.
- GC = General Content, which may include mild language, violence, comic mischief, and/or suggestive themes.
- MC = Mature Content, which may include strong language, depictions of violence, sex, and/or substance abuse.
- AO = 18+ Adult Only, which may include uncensored depictions of violence, nudity, or sex.

Enter adult areas

If you're over 18 and your age was verified when you activated your phone, you received a PIN that lets you enter the adult vaults in the Internet, Entertainment, and Game areas. If you didn't get a PIN and you want to access the vaults, contact Amp'd Mobile Customer Care.

Try before you buy

Nobody likes to buy stuff they won't use. That's why we let you check things out before you buy them.

1. Go to Amp'd Live.
2. Find an item you want to try.
3. Select Preview. If you pick a bundle, you can preview each of the items in the bundle.
4. If you like the item, select Buy. If you don't like the item or you want to check out some other choices before you decide, press Back to keep looking.

Buy stuff

When you find something you like, the next step is to choose how you want buy it. Depending on how you want to use the item, you may want to choose a different method for each item you buy (bundles count as one item). The blurbs on the screen tell you how much each item costs.

Here are some typical choices for buying items:

- Download puts a copy of the item on your phone so you can view or play it whenever you want. There are no limits on the number of times you can view or play it on your phone or computer, but copy protection rules still apply, so you may not be able to share it with your friends.
- Rental/ Stream plays the entire item on your phone. You can view or play the item only once. It's just like a pay-per-view movie from your cable or satellite service. If you want to share it with your friends, make sure they're near by when you select this option.

- Subscription gives you unlimited access to the item during your subscription period. Subscriptions are billed monthly and they're a great way to check out a lot of different stuff. Keep in mind that the subscription items change often (think e-zine or premium channel), so if you find something you've got to have, it's a good idea to buy that item and download it.

Note: If a download is interrupted, you can finish the download later by pressing Menu → My Account → Pending Download.

Send items to friends

Have you ever had one of those moments where you thought "I have got to show this to..."? Well, if your friends are also hooked into the Amp'd Mobile network, and you find something you want to share, you can send items to your friends.

8 | USING PUSH TO TALK

The Push to Talk (PTT) feature on your Kyocera Jet/Angel phone allows you to quickly communicate with an individual or group. Once connected, simply press and hold the walkie-talkie button to communicate.

Note: The PTT feature on this phone can be used only with compatible PTT phones.

Phone position

When using your phone as a walkie-talkie radio, hold the phone in a vertical position one to two inches (2.5 to 5 cm) away from your mouth.

Speakerphone

PTT calls come through the speakerphone by default. The loudspeaker is located on the back of your phone.

- Call waiting: If you accept any type of call through call waiting, the incoming call sound will be the same as the sound of the call you are in already. For example, if you are on a cellular call using the earpiece and you accept an incoming PTT call, the sound for the PTT call will come through the earpiece.
- Headset: If a headset is connected to the phone, PTT calls come through the headset speaker, and you speak through the headset microphone. You are required to press the walkie-talkie button to gain floor control of a PTT call and speak to other parties. (Headsets are sold separately.)

Adjusting PTT call volume

 The speaker icon at the top of the phone screen indicates that the speakerphone is on. Press the speakerphone  button inside the slider to turn it off.

- To adjust speakerphone volume while on a PTT call — Press the volume key on the left side of the phone up or down during the call.
- To make a PTT call come through the earpiece — Press the speakerphone button during a call.
To cancel, press the speakerphone button.

 - a private PTT call to a single PTT user, or
 - a group PTT call to more than one PTT user.
- A Call me alert sends the receiving party a text message and a message alert beep to indicate that someone wants to speak with them. The receiving party has the option to either answer or ignore the call. Call me alerts are private calls only.
