

The transmitter unit and receiver unit are working at direct voltage 9.0Vdc. The signals is transmitted at 902MHz while the On/Off switch, which installed at transmitter unit, is ON stage and signals input from jacks. At the same time, the receiver unit detects the signals and then sends to connected speaker. Otherwise, no signals will transmit and the receiver unit cannot get any signaling as illustrated above diagrams.