

Use these instructions with Part No. 1028719-01. Operation is subject to the following two conditions: (1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may arise from internal operation.

Complies with FCC Part 15.107 (a) and 15.107 (b) transmitted not to exceed 1000 microwatts.

Use only the power source specified on the label of the transmitter. Do not use any other power source. Do not use the transmitter with a power source other than the one specified on the label.