

FCC Label Location Photo

The following picture shows a label mounted to the bottom of the amplifier casing. We have used a label that was placed on an earlier revision of this product to demonstrate positioning. The amplifier will use the label specifications that has been submitted in an earlier document, and will be placed according to this photo.

Caution: This product is designed to be used with an external antenna with maximum gain of 5 dBd or less. The use of an antenna of higher gain is strictly prohibited and violates FCC regulations.
