Dear Sir or Madam:

We AnyDATA Inc. hereby declare that product: ACT231; ACT212 is/are electrically identical with the same electromagnetic emissions and electromagnetic compatibility characteristics as model: ACT231 tested by BACL, the results of which are featured in BACL project: ACT212.

A description of the differences between the tested model and those that are declared similar are as follows:

ACT212 is electronically identical with ACT231 tested by BACL, except for the following :
Mechanical housing change; same material – plastic housing.
Memory has been replaced by a new one (pin-to-pin compatible)
Sub PCB (power board) will be modified a little in order to support the vehicle function

Please contact me should there be need for any additional clarification or information.

Best Regards,
