

Tune Up procedure

The power level is not adjustable by the end user. The power level is automatically controlled by the command of base station of CDMA network.