

Quick Installation Guide Wireless Bluetooth USB Adapter

Do NOT Insert The USB Bluetooth Adapter Yet
--

There are two ways to install the Bluetooth USB device. However, we highly recommend using the bundled Widcomm Bluetooth software for your complete Bluetooth solution.

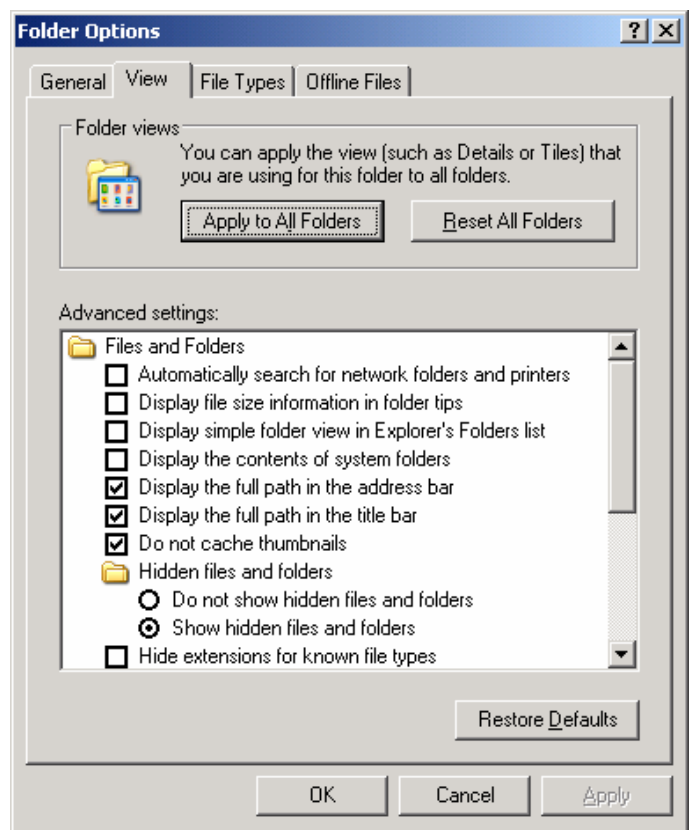

Choose one of the following options that best suit your device and requirement.

[Step A. Renaming The Microsoft Generic Bluetooth Driver]

- Click the Run function on the Start button.
- Then type %windir%\inf and click OK.

- Select Folder Options from the Tools menu.
- Click on the View tab.
- In the Advanced settings, change the Hidden files and folders setting to Show hidden files and folders.
- Uncheck Hide extensions for known file types.
- Click OK twice to return to the inf Windows.

- Search for the Bth.inf file.
- Right-click and rename it to Bth.infbak.
- Reboot your computer. Continue on next page.

[Step B. Installing The Bundled Bluetooth Software]

Do NOT Insert The USB Bluetooth Adapter Yet

1. Place the Setup CD into your CD-ROM drive. Setup should start automatically. If the setup does not start please go to Windows Explorer, locate the CD-ROM and double-click "Setup.exe".
2. Click "Install Bluetooth Driver", and then click "Next".

3. Click "OK" if the "Driver Signature Notice" appears.

4. When the "Bluetooth device not found" window appears. Insert the USB Bluetooth adapter and click "OK". Click "Finish" to complete the installation. If asked to restart the computer, click "Yes".
5. Congratulation! You can double-click "My Bluetooth Places" to start using the device.
6. For discovering and pairing your Bluetooth devices to our Bluetooth USB device, please refer to your Bluetooth devices manual for proper procedures and Pass Code (Pin Code).

Appendix A. Using Microsoft Windows XP Service Pack 2 Generic Bluetooth Software

Limitation: Not all AmbiCom Bluetooth USB adapters are Windows XP generic Bluetooth Driver compatible.

Windows XP will detect and install the generic Bluetooth driver if the Bluetooth USB adapter is one of the supported devices.

Under this method, you will NOT be required to install the Bluetooth software bundled with the product. If you have already installed the bundled software, please uninstall it now.

Note: If you have followed Step A on page 3, make sure the bth.infbak file name is restored to its original name and also remove the installed Bluetooth software. Remember to reboot your computer before going to the next step.

Simply insert the USB adapter into any available USB port and Windows should start to configure the system for you.

1. Insert the Bluetooth USB adapter into any available USB port on your computer. Windows will now install the generic Microsoft Bluetooth software for your new hardware.
2. Once the driver installation is completed. Your hardware is ready to use.
3. To add a Bluetooth device, simply double-click the Bluetooth icon from the system tray to open the Bluetooth Devices Window. Follow the Bluetooth wizard to complete the process.

4. Contact Microsoft Corporation for more information regarding Microsoft Bluetooth profile support.
5. For discovering and pairing your Bluetooth devices to our Bluetooth USB device, please refer to your Bluetooth devices manual for proper procedures and Pass Code (Pin Code).

Federal Communication Commission Interference Statement

This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class B digital device, pursuant to Part 15 of the FCC Rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. If this equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one of the following measures:

- Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna.
- Increase the separation between the equipment and receiver.
- Connect the equipment into an outlet on a circuit different from that to which the receiver is connected.
- Consult the dealer or an experienced radio/TV technician for help.

This device complies with Part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions: (1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation.

FCC Caution: Any changes or modifications not expressly approved by the party responsible for compliance could void the user's authority to operate this equipment.

IMPORTANT NOTE:

FCC Radiation Exposure Statement:

This equipment complies with FCC radiation exposure limits set forth for an uncontrolled environment. End users must follow the specific operating instructions for satisfying RF exposure compliance.

This transmitter must not be co-located or operating in conjunction with any other antenna or transmitter.
