

Appendix C – Block Diagram of BlueMeter Hub

The BlueMeter Hub is composed of two major components: an embedded computer and a wireless module. The embedded computer is configured with proprietary software. The wireless module uses a Bluetooth transceiver and interfaces to the embedded computer through an RS-232 interface.

