

P3494 Operation Description

When the user pressed transmitter button, it encodes the signal to specific code. Then modulate into RF signal and use antenna to transmit into atmosphere. The transmitter signal will receive by receiver antenna. Once collected the signal, it will demodulate into specific command to control the motor forward and backward.