re: FCC ID: HYQBHT-7500S change

To whom it may concern

Denso Corp. has an existing grant for a bar code scanner per the FCC ID listed above. Denso is starting a new company called Denso Wave Inc. They wish to get a new grant for this product under the new company name, and have requested that we make a new submittal rather than add the new company to the existing grant. Denso and Denso Wave have provided letters that this is acceptable to both of them, and that no changes have been made to the bar code scanner, and that test results on file with the FCC are still pertinent to the bar code scanner.

Sincerely

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Joel T. Schneider". The signature is written in a cursive style with a large, prominent initial 'J'.
