RE: FCC ID: PZWDWBT001
Attention: Keijiro Kumagai

I have a few comments on this Application.

1. In item 4 of your module request letter you state that because the antenna is in the host that it therefore complies with the rules. Please note that this by itself is not sufficient. A module must be tested with the specific antenna used. Please confirm that the antenna mentioned as being in the host is the same antenna with which the module was tested. Please provide some information on the antenna used with this module. Please identify where the antenna is located in a typical host. Please show a photo of the antenna tested.
2. Please note that the setup photos do not clearly identify the module. Please provide setup photos that clearly show the module in stand alone configuration.
3. Several of your plots show a significant amount of 'noise'. Please verify that this 'noise' has not affected the readings in the report.
