Dear Mr. Johnson,
Please find below the answers to your questions.

- 1) The new file "Block_diagram_17421_revisedID_rev1" was uploaded on May 28, 2007.
- 2) The applicant does confirm:
The product is released from the factory as a defined product type. The product type defines the maximum transmission power available to the user. The user has no option to alter the product type or exceed the maximum transmission power determined by the product type.

Sincerely,

Marina Cherniavsky,
certification engineer
