Label is inside the enclosure, the enclosure must be removed before inserting the SIM card, so the user can see the label easily using the product at the first time

Label is found in front inside which remove the shield without tools.