

Schematics are not required for unintentional radiators