

Antenna Info

The antenna used on the remote unit is a nominal $\frac{1}{2}$ wave folded dipole printed directly on the PCB. Due to space constraints, the antenna is electrically shorter than $\frac{1}{2}$ wave.

The antenna is matched to maximize power transfer to and from the antenna for TX and RX modes respectively.

No other antenna configuration can be connected to the unit.