21. Regarding your response to Q2, You state that the theory of operation (circuit description) is intended to be confidential however the revised confidentiality letter only lists the schematic and block diagram. Please clarify and submit revised documents that are consistent.

22. Regarding your response to Q4, The set of internal photos is not complete. Three castings are shown in the overall photo but it appears that only one of these has photos at the subassembly level. Mother board close-up photos of front and back are not provided. Back of power supply board not provided. Please provide internal photos of all subassemblies, down to the front and back of all PC Boards (if two or more identical subassemblies, only require one set of photos) and label each photo.

23. Regarding your response to Q5, The set of schematics is not complete; missing at least the converters and the uC section. Please provide a complete set of schematics.

24. Regarding your response to Q9, Based on the specifications in the User Manual it would appear that the Cellular Uplink levels are 2 dB lower than the Cellular DL levels; please confirm. Please also advise rated single channel and composite output levels for GSM both DL and UL.
