

Re: FCC label location on 1062 Hand Scanner devices

Rather than placing the label containing the FCC ID label on the exterior of the device, the label will be located inside the battery compartment. This meets the guidelines for Label Location for Part 15 and 18 Devices:

- The device is handheld.
- The FCC ID will be visible at time of purchase. All units are shipped without the battery being installed. The user will be able to see the label as the battery is fitted.
- The battery compartment is a user accessible area. No tools are required to access the battery compartment. The FCC ID label is fixed to the Hand Scanner, not to the removable battery compartment.
