ACB:

I see that the application includes three models which are electrically identical but mechanically different with varying numbers of buttons. Please confirm that you evaluated all three models and that you have provided the test data for the model which gave the highest emissions and fundamental level.

RNElectronics:

The applicant submitted 3 model variants for test. There was no discernible difference in emissions from any of them, so of these the four-button model was fully tested and reported.

ACB:

A letter was provided to describe a modification to the device. Please confirm that this modification took place before the testing, or that you investigated the effects on the device after the modification was made.

RNElectronics:

This modification was performed prior to the testing.
