

The label is applied directly over the original label to obscure the original FCC ID.

The label adhesive ensures permanent adhesion such that it can be considered to be permanently attached.