We, Avaya, declare that the Avaya B199 Conference Phone and the Konftel KT 800 IP conference Phone are identical except for branding (Avaya vs. Konftel). Mechanical and electrical designs include RF transmitter are identical between these two models.

We hereby confirm that Konftel AB is wholly owned by Avaya Inc. Avaya acquired Konftel, including the Konftel brand and all its products, in an acquisition on 11 January 2011.

Additional we declare that the current product of the B199 / KT 800 IP Conference Phones only support BT LE functionality. While the internal Bluetooth module does support full BT, our software does not. There will be no method for any user to enable full Bluetooth as the firmware only supports Bluetooth LE.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me and I will be more than happy to respond to your concerns.

Yours truly,
