The image shows the back cover of a white mobile phone. It features a large rectangular battery cover in the center, a triangular cutout at the top, and a trapezoidal cutout at the bottom. A label is affixed to the upper part of the cover, providing model and regulatory information. There are also two oval-shaped cutouts, one above and one below the battery cover, and a small circular hole to the right of the upper oval. The cover is set against a brown background.
