RE: 117977EMC Label Requirement

To Whom It May Concern:

The ZRB4 Module is physically too small to support a label indicating the appropriate language as indicated by the FCC. In order to meet this label requirement, the language is included in the User's Manual. This note is included herein for reference.

This device complies with Part 15 of the Federal Communications Commission rules and regulations. Any modifications to this device may violate the FCC rules and regulations and make operation of this device unlawful.

Changes or modifications not expressly approved by the party responsible for compliance could void the user's authority to operate the equipment.

NOTE 1: This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class B digital device, pursuant to part 15 of the FCC Rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. If this equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one or more of the following measures:

- Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna.
- Increase the separation between the equipment and receiver.
- Connect the equipment into an outlet on a circuit different from that to which the receiver is connected.
- Consult the dealer or an experienced radio/ TV technician for help.

NOTE 2: This equipment complies with the FCC RF radiation exposure limits set forth for an uncontrolled environment. This equipment should be installed and/or operated with a minimum distance of 20 centimeters between the radiator and your body.

NOTE 3: This device complies with part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions: (1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation.
