

The principles of MCL-08 Motor Part

The circuitry of the receiver controls motor part's turning to both front and back, and drives other parts running. Using P07SOP28, a coding integration circuit to decode the serial signals from ABE153 to get high and low positioned relays working.