6. Recommendations for Use and Care

- Empty the water tank, wipe all surfaces dry, and refill the water in the humidifier daily to reduce any growth of microorganisms; follow the instructions in “Fill up the Water Tank and Install Pre-Filter” on page 8 when changing water in the Humidifier. Be sure you unplug the humidifier from the electrical outlet first, and also to prevent the risk of electric shock.
- Use water with low mineral content, such as bottled water labelled with "distilled" to prevent the build-up of scale and the dispersal of minerals into the air. Even though distilled water still contains some minerals, it has lower mineral content than most tap water.
- Do not humidify to indoor relative humidity levels exceeding 50 percent. Higher humidity levels may encourage the growth of biological organisms in the home. Hygrometers, available at local hardware stores, may be used to measure humidity levels. If water condenses on windows, walls, or pictures, relocate the humidifier, lower its humidistat setting, or reduce its use.
- Do not let the area around the humidifier to become damp or wet. If dampness occurs, turn the output volume of the humidifier down. If the humidifier output volume cannot be turned down, use the humidifier intermittently. Do not let absorbent materials, such as carpeting, drapes, or tablecloths, to become damp.
- Clean the humidifier, as directed, at the end of the humidifying season or when the product will not be in frequent use. Before storage, make sure all the parts are dry. Dispose of all used demineralization cartridges, cassettes, or filters. Store the humidifier in a dry place. After storage, clean the humidifier again and remove any dust on the outside.
- Stop using your humidifier and contact your physician if you have respiratory symptoms which you believe are associated with periods of use of your humidifier, even if you are following maintenance directions. There may be bacteria growth if water remains in the water tank for more than 24 hours. As such, clean the humidifier daily.
- Every effort has been made to ensure high standards of reliability of your humidifier. However, if something does go wrong, please do not try to repair it yourself - contact Customer Service for assistance.
