

The Description of Wireless Product

The transmitter gathers all needed Video and Audio signals, then under simulate-digital conversion, changed to digital signal, the Video Amplifier will strengthen the signal, and transfer to transmit part to send it out.

At the same time, the receiver get the signal in same channel, and under the digital-simulate conversion, changed to simulate signal, then via the interfaces of video and audio, output the signal to outside equipments.