SUBJECT: LT200 device name for LT100 device

This is to declare that the Worldscout Corporation device that carries the name LT200 is in fact the LT100 device.

Chronologically, the LT100 device was an Alltigo product. Alltigo was acquired by Worldscout Corporation. At that time, in order to differentiate the devices in the marketplace, the LT100 device was re-branded as the LT200 device. No hardware changes were done.

RFI was provided several of these LT100 devices for PTCRB/FCC/CE certification.
