Label Here

The image shows a rugged, olive-green handheld device, possibly a PDA or a rugged smartphone. It has a rectangular shape with rounded corners and a textured surface. At the top, there are two small, raised rectangular tabs. Below these, there is a horizontal slot. The central part of the device features a white rectangular label with the text "Label Here" in red. Below the label, there are two yellow circular buttons and a small, dark rectangular display or sensor. At the bottom, there is a large, rectangular recessed area, likely for a battery or a screen, with a small latch on the left side. The device is set against a light blue background.
